Students 'skip' classes for one day

They demonstrate against decision

By KAY DeBORD
Of The Roman Staff

Students at Romulus High School stayed away from school yesterday to demonstrate to the board of education and school administration just how they felt about the board's recent denial of a number of proposals presented to the board through the student council.

Joel Carr, principal at Romulus High School said that only about 20 per cent of the student body was present when classes started yesterday morning.

A picket line was set up by placard-bearing students and was honored by a number of students who, if they didn't join the line, stayed away from school to wait further developments, Carr said.

A number of students were reporting "late" to classes early yesterday afternoon, according to Carr.

The main proposals being pushed by the students through the student council was for an "open campus" which would allow students to leave school property at their own discretion. Another student proposal was for a smoking area in the school.

The board denied both requests at the same meeting, citing parent support of the closed campus concept and the lack of control over traffic in and out of the schools, and the responsibility of the board of education for student safety during school hours.

"It's not that we are just trying to keep the students on school property," an administrator said. "It's also to keep outsiders out of the school for the protection of students."

The board cited state law on the smoking request. According to law, it is illegal for minors to smoke. As a majority of students at the high school are minors, the board felt it was required to follow that law.

"When the law is changed, we'll look into the matter again," Diane Boger, board president told the student group at the Jan. 7 meeting.

At the regular Monday night meeting of the school board, the board also denied a request of the student council for a "closed door negotiating session" prior to Jan. 21.

The student group expressed dissatisfaction with the board's counter-proposals to a number of the proposals discussed at the board-student panel meeting Jan. 7.

Yesterday's student action at the high school was in response to the board's declining to meet to "negotiate" the issues, a student spokesman said.

Mayor Troutt asks club for aid in rebirth plan

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

With service as one of their important products, clubs in Romulus may be asked by Mayor Terry L. Troutt to help in his proposed "rebirth of Romulus."

Troutt kicked off a campaign for improved recreation in the community last week by attending a meeting of the Romulus Kiwanis Club to answer questions about his proposals and discuss what the club can do to help implement them.

"They appeared to be interested in promoting a community swimming pool," Troutt said. "And I told them that they also should be concerned about a campaign to light Romulus' football and baseball fields."

TROUTT SAID he realizes there is some discussion about his proposal in light of the energy crisis.

"I agree that lights shouldn't be turned on during the crisis," he said. "But, make sure Romulus isn't the only city without lights to conserve energy then."

"I've seen some little burrs down the expressway with lighted fields and I see no reason why Romulus shouldn't have lights, if it means our citizens can enjoy more recreation."

The mayor also indicated he was in favor of having a community swimming pool "under the co-sponsorship of the city and the school district."

"IT WOULD be a community pool, which everyone could use at various times during both the winter and the summer for recreation," Troutt said. "And, at the same time, it would make Romulus High School competitive with other schools in swimming."

"The way it is now, Romulus students don't have a chance to compete, because they can't practice."

Any discussion on new recreational facilities is not to be taken as fact, however, Troutt said.

"We're just getting together to throw out ideas and to see if the service clubs will get behind the administration," he said.

Romulus paving plan survives threats of an asphalt shortage

Romulus officials who were holding their breath over road paving in the community because of the energy crisis are living easier these days.

The officials held their collective breath last week, while the city engineers checked on the availability of asphalt for paving.

Officials feared that there would be no asphalt for paving in the spring, because the material is a by-product of petroleum production.

down, production of asphalt would likewise be down.

"We found out that there is enough for everyone," said John Chihan, head of the city's planning - economic development department.

He had been assigned by Romulus Mayor Terry L.

Troutt to research the paving picture.

"It looks as though we'll be able to go ahead," he added.

"But now we'll have to worry about funds."

Chihan said the city's ability to maintain the more than 100 miles of local roads under its jurisdiction may be harmed by the energy crisis.

"IF LESS GAS is sold that means less gas and weight tax money which can be returned to the city," he said. "We stand the chance that financial experts will tell the city it can only pave a percentage of the amount of roads it wanted paved in the first place, because of a possible decrease in funds."

Chihan is researching that possibility before drawing up paving plans for the community.

"It's definite we'll be proceeding," he said. "But, right now we don't know how fast, because of the money situation."

He hopes to have final plans on the 1974 paving program completed by mid-February.

"WE'LL NEED the whole program plan by then because there will be a time-lag in letting bids and getting approval for construction," he said.

If everything runs smoothly, the mid-February deadline for plans will result in an early (Continued on Page A-3)

Approved budget shows rise in city departments' spending

The Romulus City Council has approved a revised city budget which shows an increase of more than $101,000 over the 1973-74 budget.

However, all but $10,000 of the increase was absorbed by more than $91,000 in surplus funds not included in the 1973-74 budget.

The new city budget shows two new departments—the Purchasing and Finance Department and the Department of Responsive Government, and shows increases in eight categories with decreases in six.

Big gainers under the budget are the Department of Public Works, which showed an increase of more than $112,000 and the police, which showed an increase of $214,000.

The big loser was the weed control section, which showed a $282,480 decrease.

The new budget shows $3.5 million in expenditures.

Salaries for new personnel made up half of the $101,000 increase over the other budget.

New personnel, including proposed secretaries, new directors and new assistant directors had $51,000 of the budget increases in salaries.

One major item chopped out of the other budget was a $57,800 outlay for a new fire truck.

Romulus woman criticizes parents of vandals

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The smashed television stood in the center of the living room, moot testimony to a plague Mrs. James Parker identifies as "bored youngsters."

Mrs. Parker said that her home was broken into last week by one or several "bored youngsters" who really had nothing better to do than smash a $600 color television, take a $25 coin collection and steal some recording tapes.

"You could tell it wasn't professionals because they didn't take any valuable things from the home, but only took a few little things and smashed the television," she added. "They weren't interested in anything but vandalizing the home."

"WE'VE LIVED in the house for 21 years. And for the first 16, we didn't have to lock the doors," she said. "Now we lock the doors, and then this happens."

"I think it's a shame."

Mrs. Parker, who has raised five children in the Romulus home with her husband, James, 59, said that children today lack motivation to better themselves.

"I feel sorry for them and their parents," she said. "You get these teen-agers on dope, and they do things like this because they have nothing better to do."

"EVERYTHING has been given to them without any work, so they don't value it.

'Now things come too easy to children, and they resort to vandalism.'

"We worked hard for that television, and I saved those Kennedy half-dollars for quite some time, but some youngster just comes in and smashes the TV and takes the coins."

Although she is bitter about the experience, she isn't seeking vengeance against those who might have robbed her home.

"I don't think I want to see them thrown in jail," she said. "If they were involved in a kind of prank, being thrown in jail will only teach them how to be a criminal."

"I REALLY think putting them to work would make them better."

Mrs. Parker, 36, said she is proud of the five children she helped raise during her 37-year marriage.

"I had one son who's in California who worked from the time he was nine-years-old," she added. "He's turned into a decent young man."

"And, I have another son who's sold papers since the time he was 12, and has made a success of himself since then."

"Now, things come too easy to children, and they resort to vandalism."

Mrs. Parker said she learned early while raising her children that making a child responsible for his activities helps make him a better adult.

"Once my son was playing ball near a neighbor's home, and he broke a window," she said. "He came home to me, but I told him to go back and to own up to the damage he did."

"He worked to pay for the damage. It taught him the value of other people's possessions. The next time he was playing ball, I'm sure he was more careful."

"TODAY, KIDS don't know how hard it is to come by some possessions."

Mrs. Parker will attempt to teach the vandals who were involved in the break-in of her home something, if they're ever apprehended.

"I'll press charges," she said. "It won't be to send them to jail, but to make them or their parents pay for the damage."

Director resigns Van Buren post

Faced with an increase in responsibilities, the part-time director of the Van Buren Township Recreation Department has submitted his resignation to the township's recreation commission chairman Larry Boelter.

A teacher at Belleville's South Junior High School, William A. Loyd has resigned his position because of what he termed "grave and new responsibilities which exceed the capabilities of a part-time director."

He had directed the township's recreational programs and activities since May, 1971, when he was hired on a part-time basis.

IN SUBMITTING his letter of resignation, Loyd said:

"Now that the recreation program is taking roots in our community and with the addition of Edison Pointe Park, the department of recreation assumes new and grave responsibilities to the Van Buren community which exceeds the capabilities of a part-time director. I, therefore, regretfully submit my resignation as the director of recreation."

Loyd added that his

WILLIAM A. LOYD resignation would remain open until the new director-manager is hired and a satisfactory period of transition is completed.

During his tenure as director of recreation, the variety of summer activities increased more than 300 per cent with fall, winter and spring activities expanding in excess of 700 per cent, "offering the Van Buren community a more balanced and continuing program for all age groups."

LOYD, IN COMMENTING on the present recreational programs, added, "With the addition of Edison Pointe Park, it is imperative that a full-time director assume the department. Efficient administration of the department can only be accomplished by a full-time director."

Loyd stressed in his resignation statement that "special consideration be given to the overall program and its development. Still in its infancy, it is necessary to refine, polish and expand the present programs and further explore new programs to meet the growing needs of our rapidly expanding community."

Loyd, who resides at 1655 Victor St., Ypsilanti, with his wife, Donna, and their two children, Rebecca and Gretchen, will continue with his teaching career.

He is a 1967 graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

Townships seeks head for parks department

The Van Buren Board of Trustees is considering the appointment of a full-time parks and recreation manager for the township.

Applications for the new position are being accepted by township clerk Mrs. Patricia Cullin at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

Guidelines for the post have been set up by the Van Buren Township Recreation Commission and also are available at the township hall.

THE EXPANDED recreation program in the township and the recent acquisition of Edison Pointe Park and Belleville Lake from the Detroit Edison Co. necessitated the new appointment.

The township's present recreational programs and activities have been under the direction of a part-time director, who submitted his resignation last week.

The duties of the new position will include setting up a new park and recreation department in the township, managing department personnel, the park facilities and equipment and the total recreation program for the township.

Other assigned duties will be the development of a master plan for parks and ongoing recreation programs, budget control for the department and those duties assigned by the township board.

THE QUALIFICATIONS are a minimum two years experience in parks and recreation, a degree is beneficial, but equivalent experience will suffice.

Applicants must be capable of administering an aggressive, dynamic parks and recreation program as it relates to stated duties.

BARN INSPECTORS—Tim Armstrong Jr. and Stanley Marciniak Jr., both Romulus High School students, admire their handiwork in the construction of a utility barn. The building was in conjunction with the vocational education program's building trades classes at the high school. They were among 40 students who constructed 13 "little red barns" during class time for practical building experience. The barns are now being sold for the cost of materials plus 10 per cent, according to instructor Paul Lammers.—Enterprise-Roman photo.

McCauley defends position on Youngblood controversy

State Senator John E. McCauley, (D-Wyandotte) said that he was "extremely gratified" that Charles N. Youngblood had acceded to requests from other senators and resigned his seat.

"As everyone knows, I voted in December not to expel Sen. Youngblood," McCauley said. "My view then, as now, was that such a move would have raised serious legal questions, since there is some confusion as to the real powers of the senate as granted by the Michigan Constitution."

McCauley said that the alternatives that faced the senate, expulsion or suspension, both were fraught with possible legal difficulties.

As chairman of the Senate Democratic Caucus, McCauley worked during the recent legislative interim in an effort to solve the Youngblood problem.

"I became convinced that the only real answer was for Sen. Youngblood to search his conscience and to come up with the answer that regardless of any reservations he may have regarding his leaving the senate, the only course was to absent himself through the process of resignation." McCauley admitted that a "certain amount of discussion" was held between himself and Youngblood prior to the resignation, but added that "it is more than likely that Charlie needed some guidance at this particular point in his career."

Clerk Folmar cleans up Romulus election rolls

A "purge" has begun at the Romulus City Hall. No, heads aren't rolling in a mass axing of city workers, but Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar is trying to "clean up" his voter registration rolls. Folmar has mailed more than 1,300 letters to addresses where he has "a reasonable assurance" that the voter listed at that address has either moved or died since the last time he voted. "WE'RE MAILING the letters now, with an application for re-registration to see if the voter still exists," Folmar said. "If it turns out that he doesn't, we'll receive the undeliverable letter and use that as evidence to remove the voter's name from the roll."

But, the removal won't mean a "living death" for some voter who just forgot to pick up his mail one day.

Instead, the names which are removed from the "active voter" rosters will be placed on an "inactive roll," and any voter who wishes to cast his ballot can.

"We can't cancel registrations," Folmar said. "But, with the inactive file, we can keep track of who hasn't voted in a long time."

"SHOULD SOMEONE turn up to vote, the election workers will call the clerk's office, and we'll remove the name from the inactive file."

The city benefits from the election roster "purge."

Precincts which could be split because of an over-burdening of the polling places may not have to undergo the treatment if the "purge" proves what Folmar suspects. He believes 10 per cent of the 12,045 registered voters in the city have either moved or died.

AND AVOIDING a split in a precinct saves the city as much as $2,500 for voting machines.

The clerk believes he'll have to split at least one precinct. "We'll most certainly will have to split precinct two," Folmar said. "But there's a chance others may not have to be split."

Mayor re-activates commissions

Commissions, which virtually were disbanded when he took office, have been re-activated by Mayor Terry L. Trout.

Trout has named citizens to fill vacancies on several city commissions, created when he asked for the resignations of their members after his Nov. 6 election victory.

Named to the planning commission along with Trout were Councilman Jack Trumble, the city engineer, Ed Orr, and citizens Edward Rush, Richard Butz, Clayton Meldrum and Donald Treder. Charles Dettloff, who refused to resign, will be retained on the commission until his appointment by the former mayor expires in June. At that time, he will be replaced by a representative of the school district, according to Trout.

Recreation commission appointees were Fred Williams, Robert Martin, Gordon Zavitz, Marilyn Radford, Daniel Bales, Michael Fenick and Duane Martin.

New board of review members include Irvin Icenogle, Lawrence Plank Sr. and Jess Tryon.

Trout also is considering the formation of two new commissions, a three-member ordinance review commission to study present city ordinances and review past ordinances, and a five-member police and fire safety commission to help upgrade police and fire protection in the community.

practice during his term in office.

In 1973 alone, he earned $52,411.31 in interest on some $5.8 million in investments. The city isn't finished drawing interest on some of Glinski's investments.

Eighteen of the 59 investments he made during the past year have not matured. They all will mature in November.

According to Lewkowicz, cities invest surplus funds in an effort to give citizens "the most for their tax money."

Municipalities can invest because all taxes are collected at one time of the year, yet payments are stretched out over 12 months.

So, money earmarked for next October's bills lays waiting in a bank—earning more money and keeping taxes down, the treasurer said.

One man held

Sheriffs seek man in robbery of bank

One Inkster man is in custody and another is being sought following the late-afternoon robbery of a Romulus bank.

Det. Arthur Torikian of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol and several federal agents arrested John Festus Bailey, 28, of 26872 Kitch St., Inkster, at 12:30 p.m., Monday on a warrant.

According to Torikian, Bailey was identified as the man who robbed the Romulus branch of the Security Bank and Trust Company on Wayne Road north of the I-94 freeway of some $2,000.

TELLERS AT the bank told police that Bailey and a companion allegedly entered the branch at 5 p.m., Jan. 10, and handed the two tellers a note stating: "This is a hold-up. Give us all your money in 20s, 50s and 100s."

The two men then displayed weapons, one showing what appeared to be the handle of a gun, and the other holding what appeared to be a weapon in his pocket, a sheriff said. The tellers gave the robbers more than $2,000 and the two ran to a mid-1960s model yellow Ford with rusty fenders. A third man drove the vehicle away from the bank, a sheriff added.

Torikian said he arrived at the scene only minutes after a patrol car responded to the armed robbery call, and showed the two tellers a number of pictures, including one of Bailey.

THE DETECTIVE said both men are suspected of being involved in several other bank robberies in the area.

Police still are seeking the identity of the third man who drove the get-away car. The court has issued a warrant for the arrest of Bailey's companion, a sheriff said.

Torikian said Bailey attempted to resist arrest after being spotted near Michigan Avenue and Inkster Roads in the city early Monday afternoon.

Officers used force to place him under arrest, he added.

Board approves use of its land

Property belonging to the Romulus School District at Beverly and Henry Ruff roads, will be converted into a trail area for snomobiles as a part of the city's recreation program.

The Romulus Board of Education Monday night acceded to the city's request authorizing the use of the property. However, its approval was contingent upon the stipulation that the district not be held responsible for any injuries or accidents occurring there.

The board also agreed to another request by Romulus city officials, appointing board members Jack A. Bath and Carl Morris to a committee studying the feasibility of lighting the high school football field and baseball diamond for recreation purposes.

Bath along with board Vice-President Gerald A. Budd also was appointed to represent the board on the city's recreation committee.

In other action, the board approved a request by the Cory School PTA to use of the school on Sunday, Feb. 17 for a program, marking the school's 50th anniversary. However, a request by the Beverly PTO to use the school for bingo games was denied.

The board also agreed to support a city-prepared petition for an assessment district for lighting improvements in the Beverly Road-Henry Ruff Road area.

A court hearing on a motion to dismiss a $100,000 damage suit filed by the Van Buren Township administration against S.A.T. Enterprises, Inc. of Belleville, is scheduled to begin in Wayne County Circuit Court at 2 p.m. Friday.

The suit was initiated by the township in September as a counter suit against the Belleville firm, which had sought court action against township trustees, attacking the constitutionality of a township zoning ordinance.

Paving survives threat of shortage

August paving program.

While he's researching the city's ability to absorb the cost of paving, Chihan and Romulus Department of Public Works Director David Pauls are exploring the possibility of reclassifying some of the city's local roads to major roads.

Cities receive more funds for major roads than they do for local roads under state formulas. However, cities cannot use funds received for major roads to maintain local roads.

So, Chihan and Pauls have the task of juggling their road mileage and determining the importance of a road.

Takes door-to-door trail

Levin runs a different course this time

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

It was a quiet Saturday morning three years ago when Sander Levin came to open his campaign for votes in Macomb County — at an unfinished shopping center in Warren.

The former state senator from Berkley told the lone newsmen who bothered to come out that Saturday morning that he would win in Macomb and the state.

At that time I conceded that the Democratic gubernatorial candidate had an outside chance against William Milliken, but I warned: "No way will you take Macomb in the primary, the people out here will back favorite son candidate George N. Parris — the county prosecutor and Macomb's No. 1 Greek."

Levin, a Jew, then asked: "How could a Parris be a Greek...anyway, I hear there's a Hebrew temple near the prosecutor's office in Mount Clemens — and my pipeline tells me I'll carry Macomb's Democratic primary."

BY NOW WE WERE talking about wagers, and I offered to share some of my Armenian cognac with the winner in Macomb.

We also should cut down on campaign gimmickry...and take tough issue stands

Well we know what happened. Levin carried the primary and crushed Parris in his own county — and tossed in a few matza loaves for a clincher.

A short time later Levin tasted defeat in the showdown with Milliken, the GOP's "nice guy." AS FOR MY offer to share some Armenian cognac with Levin or Parris, neither came forth. Parris wanted to forget the primary disaster over a dish of Greek yogurt, and Levin forgot his loss to Milliken with a glass of Kosher wine.

If Sandy comes this way in search of votes he's welcome to visit the office. I've still got that bottle of cognac — but no more bets this time.

While Levin appears to be the Dems' front-runner, at the moment, he's still disliked by the old machine in Macomb.

Several weeks ago Parris and some of his Macomb cohorts came out endorsing former Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh. If I were still pounding the newsbeats in Macomb, this time I'd bet on Levin.

LATE LAST FALL the Romulus Chamber of Commerce announced it would host a meeting of Western Wayne County chambers to sound out Cavanagh. The session was canceled — no one from the area (the business community that is) was interested in Jerry Cavanagh.

How well Sandy Levin would do out here in Western Wayne County, in his second crack at nice guy Milliken, is a moot question at this early juncture in the preliminary campaigning. But his recent show of "character strength" in denouncing fellow Democrats in the Senate is an indication the "new Levin" will seek out more than the hard-line Democrat.

BY URGING HIS onetime Senate colleagues to oust convicted Senator Youngblood, Levin showed he's sticking to his early grass-roots campaigning...and is listening to the people.

On a recent door-to-door swing through Macomb County, Levin said he learned that "the citizens are damn angry at not believing anybody." Continuing, he said:

"They want candidates without a difference between public and private interests — somebody who is straight..."

Levin said his strategy against Milliken will be to attack the governor for being "sincere but weak."

AND THAT WILL BE a tough chore this election year. Milliken's "cut the taxes" State of the State address won't hurt his chances for another term in the governor's office — despite Watergate, a slackening economy, and rising unemployment.

But Levin is convinced he'll crack Milliken's nice guy shield, and if he does — the Democrats will finally come up with a winner — something they haven't had since the days of bow-tied Soapy Williams.

It should be an interesting election year for all concerned — Democrats and Republicans.

And the cognac offer still holds for Sandy Levin...it's almost three years older — in taste that is.

As we see it

Kelley is right on busing stand

The fate of anti-busing in Michigan now rests before the United States Supreme Court — sandwiched between 90 pages of argumentative documentation compiled by State Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley.

When Kelley personally delivered the state's defense packet to the nation's High Court, he said District Judge Stephen Roth's decision ordering extensive cross-district busing in the metropolitan area "is erroneous and not supported by law..."

And when the High Court gets around to weighing all the facts, we hope Kelley comes home the winner — and in doing so, he'll accomplish a victory for the people against future governmental edicts which tend to border "Big Brotherism..."

The Detroit cross-district busing case began on Aug. 18, 1970. It alleged that Detroit area schools had been operated by the then Detroit Board of Education in a manner which violated constitutional rights of the plaintiffs.

Judge Roth held that the plaintiffs' position was correct, a decision which the present Detroit Board of Education has decided not to appeal further.

In granting relief in the case Judge Roth ordered massive cross-district busing affecting 53 school districts, covering approximately 700 square miles in a three county area, and involving 780,000 school children with the requirement that at least 310,000 of them be transported by bus from one school district to another to achieve racial equality.

Kelley immediately appealed this decision to the Circuit Court of Appeals. After a three judge court of appeals panel upheld Judge Roth's decision, Kelley sought and obtained a rehearing before the full court. While the full court also upheld Judge Roth's ruling, three judges dissented, several orders were vacated, and the case was returned to Judge Roth for further proceedings which would include at least 18 affected school districts which had not previously had an opportunity to be heard.

Following that decision of Sept. 6, 1973, the state's attorney general asked that the United States Supreme Court immediately accept the case for full review. That request was granted on Nov. 19, 1973, by the Supreme Court.

In his brief Kelley asked that the Supreme Court "reverse the opinion and judgment of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals...and hold that, based on the record in this cause" the defendants, including Governor Milliken, Attorney General Kelley, Superintendent of Public Instruction Porter, State Treasurer Green and the Michigan State Board of Education, "have not committed acts resulting in de jure (by law) segregation."

Kelley further asked the Supreme Court to find "that a multi-school district remedy is constitutionally impermissible in this cause."

Kelley, in his brief, argues "Close scrutiny of the conduct of defendants Milliken, et al, reveals no basis for the holding that their conduct resulted in de jure (by law) segregation either within Detroit or between Detroit and the other 85 school districts in the tri-county area."

Kelley's brief further states "...Unless this Court is to abandon the principles of racial equality it has enunciated from Brown...to the present, and hold that majority black school systems are somehow intrinsically inferior to school systems with white majorities, it must...conclude that a Detroit-only plan of desegregation satisfies constitutional requirements."

Kelley's brief also makes the point that the relief ordered by Judge Roth is "sweeping, novel and unprecedented" and further that it compels "massive reassignment and transportation of pupils across school district and county lines solely for racial balance purposes."

Kelley maintains that Judge Roth's order "is not based upon any unconstitutional violation" and that in "the absence of a constitutional violation, there is simply no basis for the judicial restructuring of scores of legally, politically and geographically independent school districts throughout the tri-county area..."

"...Such action is manifestly beyond the 'limits' of federal judicial power," Kelley concludes.

And we agree and support the attorney general's "peoples position."

Voice of the people Educator questions 'operation' methods

To the Editor: The purpose of this letter is to bring to the attention of the people of the Romulus community several facts and points regarding the opening and then abrupt closing of the Romulus schools on Friday, Dec. 21, 1973.

1. A number of officials in districts including Garden City, Crestwood, Ecorse, Wayne-Westland, Huron, Van Buren, Ypsilanti and Willow Run were perceptive enough to see the danger and fruitlessness of running busses and attempting to open school on the above date. The Director of Maintenance and Operation for the Romulus Schools clearly does not possess the necessary cognitive facilities to determine if schools will function on a given day. This is particularly true in light of the fact that on other occasions in past years similar follies have taken place within the Romulus system endangering the safety, welfare, and very lives of Romulus students.

2. If just 50 classroom teachers of the 310 teachers employed by the Romulus schools could not have made work due to weather conditions on the day in question, some 1,500 students on the average, or over 20 percent of the total school population would have been inconvenienced with teacher substitutes. This, of course, is providing 50 substitutes could be contacted and secured with weather conditions as they were. Furthermore, there is a present shortage of teacher substitutes at some levels within the Romulus system. One must wonder if the Director of Maintenance and Operation is aware of factors such as these.

3. It is difficult to visualize how the Director of Maintenance and Operation expected school to resume on Dec. 21, when he knew the previous evening at 9 p.m. that parking lots, such as those at the Senior High which hold upward of 250 cars on a school day, were not plowed to accommodate cars arriving the following morning at 6:30.

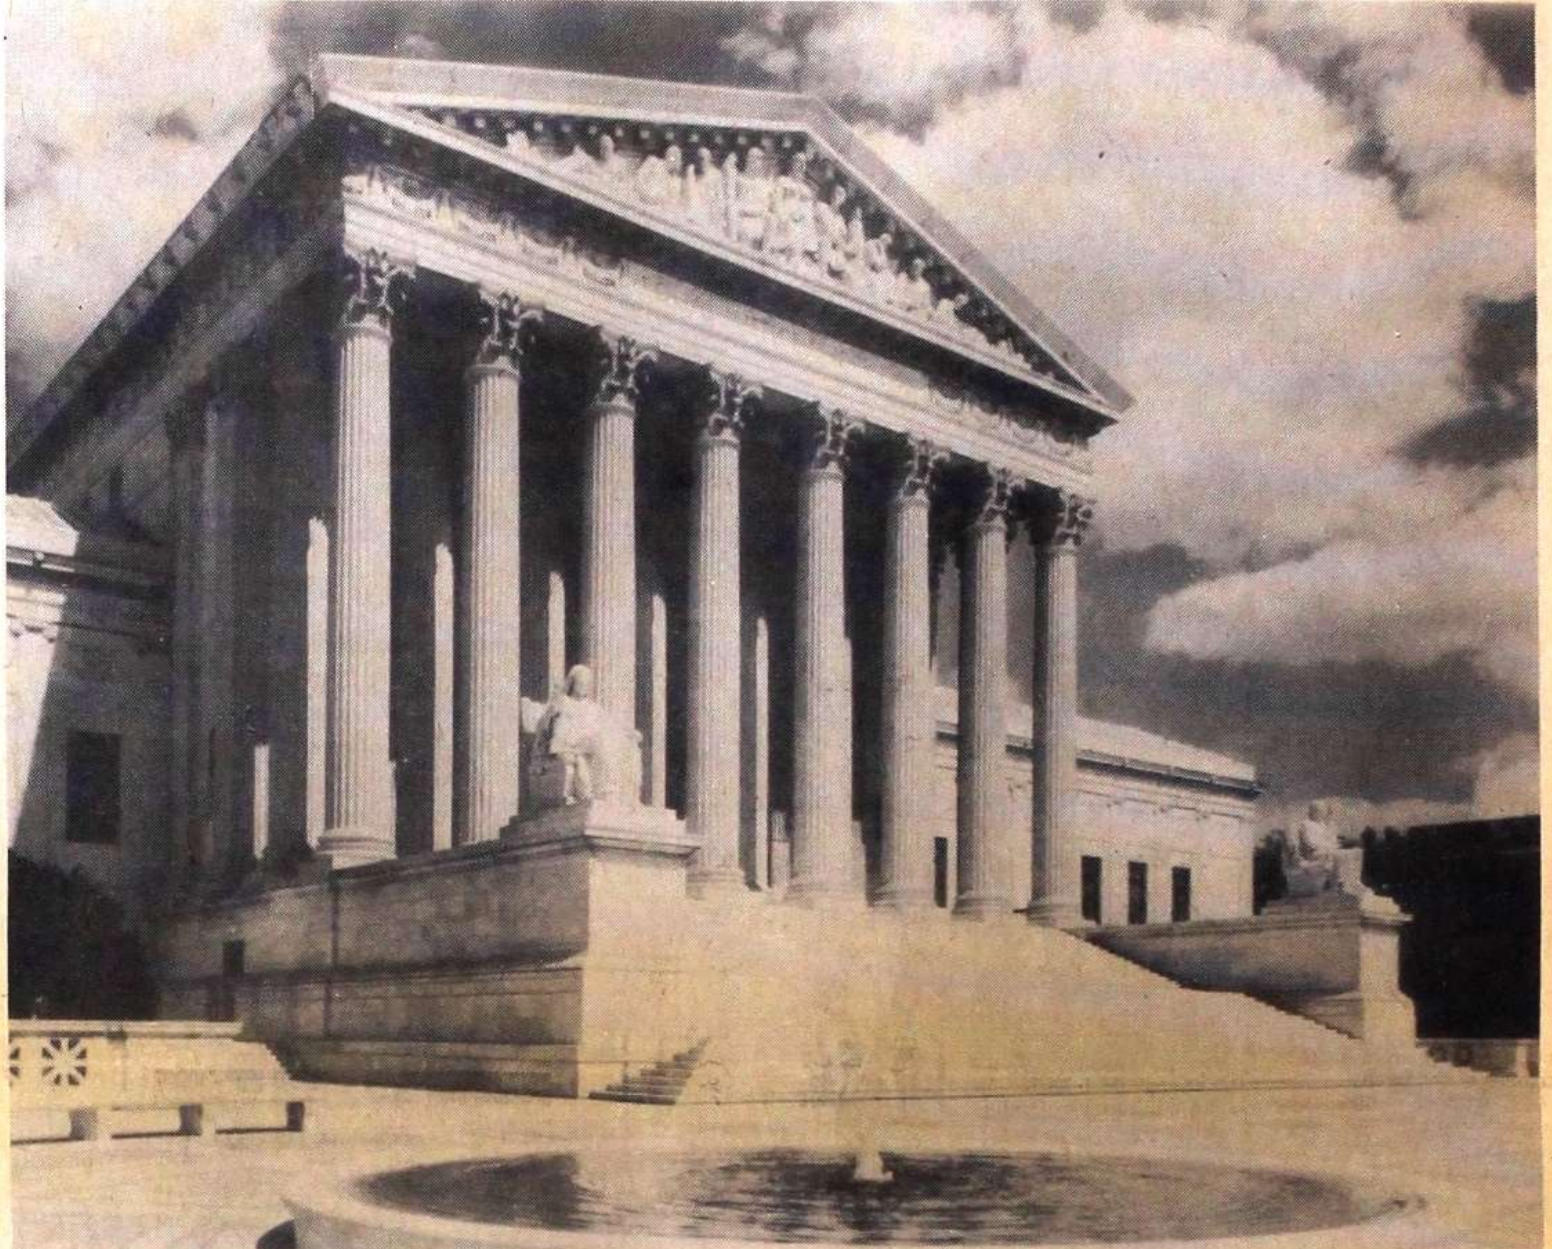

4. Noting the extreme weather conditions on the date in question, it is apparent little, if any, attention was paid to present programs to save energy.

5. On the day in question, accidents involving six full or partially filled school busses occurred.

It is apparent the present Director of Maintenance and Operation needs assistance in further decisions regarding whether schools will or will not operate on a given day. If we keep the decision making process at status quo the end result will eventually be the loss of life. This loss of life could hit very close to home, it could be your own child.

Let the Board of Education know how you feel by calling WH 1-1600 or attending the next Board of Education meeting on Monday, Jan. 28.

Dr. Harry Willnus, Vice President
Romulus Education Association

THE DECISION MAKERS—Sometime this year the seat of the Judicial Branch of the United States government, the United States Supreme Court, will take on the subject of busing—and there to lead the state's opposition to forced cross-district busing will be Michigan Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley. Completed in 1935, the judicial structure stresses dignity and simplicity—and hopefully the High Court's ruling on busing in Michigan will resolve the controversy to ease tension on both sides of the busing front. — (Photo courtesy Washington Convention and Visitors Bureau).

GOP will get early smoke signals ...and the right signal could elevate Ford

By TOM OCHILTREE
Eagle Washington Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON — Five special elections to fill House vacancies, including two in Michigan, will give Republican leaders in the early months of this year a clear indication of the extent to which Watergate has damaged their party.

The two early Michigan ballottings will come in the traditionally rock-ribbed Republican fifth and eighth congressional districts.

If the Democrats win either seat or even close, the GOP can expect heavy weather, indeed, during the regular national off-year election this November. Some pessimists already are muttering that the party may lose as many as 40 House seats. In the old Congress the Republicans had 192 seats and the Democrats 240.

A REALLY WEAK Republican showing in all five special elections, many political analysts believe could seal President Nixon's fate and result in the elevation of Vice President Gerald R. Ford to the White House. Ford then would become the first Michigan resident ever to rise to the Presidency.

The special election in Michigan's eighth district comes about through the appointment of Rep. James Harvey, a seven term House veteran, to the federal bench.

Is it humane?

Capital punishment

LANSING — Rep. Kirby Holmes, R-Utica, has cranked up his printing presses hoping that he can saturate the state with petitions to put capital punishment on this fall's general election ballot.

Holmes, a first-term lawmaker, has acknowledged that gathering 300,000 signatures is more difficult than he thought it was.

And under a state law which limits such a petition drive to 180 days, Holmes says that it's an almost impossible task.

HOWEVER, HE FEELS that he has an issue with enough political sex appeal that he can get enough signatures to put the question on the ballot.

The petition asks that voters be given the opportunity to decide whether or not there should be capital punishment for convicted first-degree murderers.

The Senate on Dec. 13 confirmed President Nixon's nomination of Harvey to be a federal district judge in Michigan's eastern district.

Harvey does not intend to resign formally from his House seat and take the judicial oath of office until early February. He has explained that he needs the time to move his family back to the state.

HOWEVER, SEVERAL would-be Republican successors suspect that Harvey's unusual delay

Special House votes will tell the story of Watergate is designed to allow the congressman's administrative assistant, James M. Sparling, Jr., time to organize a campaign of his own to succeed his boss.

Sparling has been a member of Harvey's staff since 1961. His immediate task is to close the gap on State Sen. Robert L. Richardson, Jr., a former Saginaw county prosecuting attorney and the recognized early front runner.

THE RACE FOR THE Republican nomination also includes four relative long shots. They are state Rep. Bert C. Brennan, State Rep. Roy L. Spencer, Bay County Commissioner William H. Boutell and Michael J. Gillman, chairman of the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Appeals Board.

Front runner on the Democratic side is State Sen. J. Robert Traxler who already has hired a professional campaign manager.

Named as Vice President to succeed the fallen Spiro T. Agnew, Ford made such a straight forward impression during his confirmation hearings before House and Senate committees and in his first few days in office that he now is being widely praised as "the ideal man to restore the country's traditional sense of values."

Republicans in the race to succeed Ford are Robert VanderLaan, majority leader of the state senate, and Milton Zaagman, president pro tem of the State Senate. Their rivalry could lead to some intraparty bitterness.

Other Republican hopefuls are James K. Miller, the Kent county prosecuting attorney, and Robert Boelens, a former Grand Rapids mayor.

Richard VanderVeen is the only announced Democratic candidate so far. A Grand Rapids attorney and former member of the state highway commission, VanderVeen twice failed in attempts to unseat Ford.

Onto state contest

Debaters capture state win record

Posting an impressive record for its efforts, the Belleville High School debate team has captured the record among high schools in the state in consecutive tournament wins.

The record - a first place in one tournament and a tie in another with results still pending in a third competition - was the results of a group effort, which began in early August.

The combination of the talents of its student debaters and coach David White, a former national champion in college debating, produced one of the "most successful teams in Michigan's history."

"This is the best team I have ever coached and one of the best I have ever seen," White said. "It is a joy to work with students who say yes to a commitment."

The debate resolution the students used in their triumphs was "Resolve: That the Federal Government Should Provide a Program to Employ All Employable U.S. Citizens Living in Poverty."

The debaters competed in three week-day leagues, posting a 23-1 first place record at one league and tied for first at another with the third league's results still pending. The debate team also competes in Saturday tournaments.

For the group, a typical Saturday tournament includes 40 to 80 schools from the entire state of Michigan and winning just one tournament is often the highlight of a season. However, the Belleville team has surpassed the usual, winning their last six consecutive tournaments.

The team is now preparing for the elimination competition in the state championship. A novice team, it already has qualified for the novice version of the state semi-finals.

The debaters think their chances are good, and White sums up the prevailing feeling fairly well, with "I hate to lose."

New law voids $2 fee on some car changes

Michigan drivers will no longer be forced to pay the state a $2 transfer fee when obtaining a car from another member of the family.

Gov. William Milliken has signed a bill into law sponsored by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland), which allows a car owner to transfer registration plates to a member of his or her immediate family without paying the fee.

"Under present law, a single family is forced to pay twice for ownership transfer of registration plates if a car passes from one member of a family to another," Faust said. "I don't think it's fair for the state to penalize families in this way."

"A motorist who sells his car to a family member is already exempted from the state use tax. This new act will make the law more consistent by providing a similar exemption from registration fees," he added.

Romulus Jaycees host school's essay contest

Romulus youngsters will be invited to tell "What It Means to Me to Be An American" in an essay contest, sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees.

Co-chaired by Jaycees Dave McDonald and Bob LaChance, the contest is opened to sixth, seventh and eighth grade students at Romulus Junior High School.

Themes must have a length of 2,500 words and entry forms are available at the school.

Winners from each grade will receive $25 savings bonds.

Precautions can avoid school walk tragedies

The winter walk to the bus stop is still as cold as ever, but with the loss of an hour last week, it's a bit darker than usual for students.

The assistant superintendent in the Huron School District, Lee Goodney, has cautioned motorists to keep an eye out for the youngsters, who because of the dark or a lack of time may take to their morning walk with less alertness.

According to Goodney, school administrators as well as parents are concerned about the youngsters' pre-dawn stroll, and are seeking a solution to what might be an unintentional, but preventable accident.

BUS DRIVERS FOR the school district have pointed out that pupils, who are not at their bus stop at the appointed time, could very well be passed up simply because they are not visible to the driver at distance from the stop.

"Let it be emphasized that parents must take the responsibility of having their youngsters ready and waiting for the bus drivers when the bus appears," Goodney said. "The situation becomes more critical to motorists and bus drivers when youngsters push forward to get to the bus. One slip on the part of the youngster or a short skid of the bus or motorist's car could result in unintentional-but preventable disaster," he added.

The school official said another important factor of the winter weather is the necessity of bus drivers to devote all of their skills to driving. Goodney suggested that parents caution their children not to distract the drivers with behavioral problems on the bus.

THIS IS always true, Goodney said, but more so during these weeks of snow, ice, rain and darkness.

"It is just a matter of being a little extra cautious and a little more mindful of the fact that somewhere beyond the reach of the head lights could be somebody's son or daughter walking or standing on or near the roadway," Goodney said. "Everyone, please be careful."

Pamela Houghton exchanges vows at Baptist Church

The Community Baptist Church of Romulus was the setting for the recent marriage of Pamela Ann Houghton of Romulus and Michael T. McGrath of Hazel Park. Double ring vows were exchanged before a candlelight altar graced with bouquets of multi-colored blooms.

The Rev. Gary Hayton officiated the five-thirty ceremony before some 75 assembled relatives and friends. Music for the occasion included 'Wither Thou Goest' and 'There is Love'.

Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Houghton of Romulus and her bridegroom is the son of Leonard McGrath of Hazel Park and Mrs. Margaret Luft of Lincoln Park.

ENTERING THE church on the arm of her brother, Roger L. Houghton of Dearborn Heights, Pam was gown in a creation of satin faille and lace. Styling details on the dress included a high collar of pleated organza, a lace bib-effect on the little fitted bodice, long sleeves and a circular chapel train edged in lace.

A Juliet cap studded with seed pearls and embroidered flowers secured her fingertip illusion veil and a bouquet of white carnations, apricot-colored Woburn roses, and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

Sharon Harshbarger of Romulus served as honor attendant in an ivory gown topped with a moss green velvet jacket accented with ivory lace. An ivory veil distinguished her from the four bridesmaids who wore moss green veils in their hair. Attendants were Janet Madaski of Carleton; Mrs. Don Roderick of Wayne; Mrs. James McGrath of Hazel Park, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom; and Sheryl Leal, of Plymouth, niece of the bride.

THE YOUNGER SET serving in the wedding party included 11-year old Jimmy Houghton, son of the junior Lloyd Houghtons, as ringbearer, and Jeanette and Tammy Houghton, the eight and six-year old daughters of the Roger Houghtons. Jeanette donned a moss green velvet frock with her sister gown in gold velvet. Both carried baskets of flowers and dropped rose petals along the aisle.

The bridegroom's brother, James McGrath, assumed the duties of best man with Bob Hines and Tom Malley of Hazel Park; Gary Gates of Sterling Heights; and Paul Luff of Lincoln Park, brother of the bridegroom, making up the corps of ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Houghton chose a long blue gown embroidered in white with a corsage of white baby rosebuds and blue baby's breath pinned at the shoulder. The bridegroom's mother donned an aqua gown complimented by a corsage of white baby rosebuds and yellow baby's breath.

A reception for 150 guests followed at the V.F.W. Hall in Detroit after which the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

A graduate of Romulus High School, the new Mrs. McGrath is employed in Detroit at Allied-Kelite Products. An alumnus of Hazel Park High and a former sergeant in the U.S. Marines, her husband is employed by Ford Motor Co.

Kehetian is speaker at BPW dinner-meet

The 'Fourth Estate', its changes and its influence on the lives of people in the community and nations of the world, was the subject matter of the talk given by Mitch Kehetian at the January meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club. The January 7 event was held at South Junior High School.

Kehetian started in the newspaper business as a copyboy 20 years ago and today is editor of the Belleville Enterprise, Romulus Roman and Daily Eagle. The question and answer period following his talk was informative and pointed up the interest taken in the public press and journalism.

The Public Relations Committee provided punch and canapes for the social hour which preceded the 6:30 dinner. During the business session, additional donations were collected for the National Federation to meet the 'Challenge for Commitment' and to effect the ratification of the equal rights amendment in eight more states.

The same committee, Diana Moriarty, chairman, Ethel McDonald, Jean Stinehour and Helen White, was in charge of the evening program.

Richendollar to speak on THE NUMBER

The United Methodist Women urge Belleville area residents to join them at the First United Methodist Church on Thursday, January 17, at 7:30 p.m. when James Richendollar, principal of North Junior High School and a member of the board of directors of THE NUMBER, will speak on the progress and plans of our area crisis center.

Feeling that establishing THE NUMBER was a giant step in directing those in need to competent sources of help, the UMW feels that the community must aid and support the center so that it may reach its maximum potential. It is hoped that anyone who has not heard a representative of the center speak, or who would like to be updated on the operation, will plan to join them when Richendollar makes his presentation.

The UMW donated $700 from the proceeds of their fall bazaar to THE NUMBER.

Make a February theater date

NO DOUBT your 1974 calendar is all in place — and handy so that you can check it at a glance? Then get out your red pencil and circle February 22 and 23 (decide later which date you'll choose).

Why? Those are the dates for the Belleville Community Players' latest production. For their new year debut, they've chosen that well-known thriller, 'Wait Until Dark', to send a few tingles up your spine.

Playing the lead (that of the blind girl, Susie, so brilliantly done by Audrey Hepburn on the screen) is Charlene Lobb. Jim Lightfoot has the role of her photographer-husband and Bill Loyd will be the 'heavy' — the killer, Roat. Jim Fitch and Sue Ewald have supporting parts in the play — the sixth of the group's presentations.

And it will be third-round for Jean Daniels as she directs the three-act mystery drama.

So — if you'd planned to entertain AFTER the holidays to help relieve those mid-winter blahs, the play's just the thing for getting a few friends together for an evening. There'll be more on 'Wait Until Dark' in future issues so be sure to read 'All Around the Town.'

Here 'n there... around the town

IN FROM COLORADO after a 10-day holiday visit are Monica M. Mendez of Bedell Street, Belleville, and her sister, Lauraine R. O'Brien of Livonia. The two women enjoyed the Christmas holiday with another sister, Genevieve A. Busha and her son and his family, in Colorado Springs. They also included Pike's Peak and Garden of the Gods on their itinerary and attended many special events in the area during their stay. They arrived home in time to see the new year in.

ROBIN SAMSON blew out 10 candles on her carousel birthday cake last Wednesday and shared her special day with three close friends, Janet Miller, Lisa Grey and Michelle Bennett. The three girls were invited to dinner after school and were later taken to see 'Robin Hood' at the Wayne-State Theater. Robin's mother, Mrs. Carol Samson, and her sisters, Jennifer and Lisa, accompanied the group.

MISS WELLS

Barb Wells will be a June bride

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wells of 14269 Trenton Road, Southgate, are announcing the engagement and June wedding date of their daughter, Barbara, and Larry Domick of Belleville.

A 1969 graduate of Southgate High School, Miss Wells is currently employed at Commercial Carriers.

Her fiancé is the son of Kurt Domick of 76 Maple, Belleville, and Mrs. Marie Domick of 745 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville. He attended Eastern Michigan University and is also an employee of Commercial Carriers.

Christ the King Lutheran Church in Southgate has been reserved for their June 8 wedding.

Stuffed chops will please your guests

Pork chops put on company airs when dressed for a special occasion with a flavorful stuffing and an eye-catching garnish. Since one of these thick chops with its tasty deviled ham stuffing makes a generous serving, it's easy to estimate needs. Add the gay crabapple and pineapple garnish and they're guest-pleasers for sure.

To make a pocket in each chop, cut into the chop along the bone and parallel to the surface of the chop. Be careful not to cut completely through the chop to the fat edge. Pockets cut from the bone side close automatically to seal in the stuffing, explains Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock & Meat Board.

Guest-Pleaser Pork Chops
6 rib pork chops, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick, with pockets
1 can (2½ ounces) deviled ham
1 tablespoon chopped ripe olives
2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon prepared horseradish
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 crabapples
6 pineapple chunks
Combine deviled ham, ripe olives, onion and horseradish. Stuff each chop with approximately 1 tablespoon deviled ham mixture. Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour, or until done. Heat crabapples and pineapple chunks; place 1 crabapple and 1 pineapple chunk on each of 6 small wooden picks. Insert 1 in top of each chop. 6 servings.

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW MICHALSKI

Michalskis mark 30th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Michalski of 22425 Haggerty Road, Belleville, marked their 30th wedding anniversary January 8 at a family dinner in their home. A three-tiered wedding cake baked by the 'bride-of-30 years' was the highlight of the party.

Attending and sharing the day with their parents were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Michalski and their four daughters from Ypsilanti: Carol Michalski and her friend, Roy Szalong of Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Michalski and their two daughters of Belleville; and Marian, who lives at home. Also joining the group was a close friend and neighbor, Catherine Lorenz.

The Michalskis, united in marriage January 8, 1944, at St. Hedwig's Catholic Church in Detroit, have lived in this area for some 28 years. Mr. Michalski, who is employed at McLouth Steel in Trenton, presented his wife, Stephanie, with a dozen red roses and a diamond ring in honor of the occasion.

Newly wed Bill Villas honeymoon in Poconos

In a four o'clock ceremony December 29 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, Marlene Kay Vandecar became the bride of William Reyes Villa. The Rev. Richard Venus presided at the double ring vows before an altar appointed with two arrangements of white mums and red carnations set amidst holiday decor.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leland Vandecar of 24926 Haggerty Road, New Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Villa of 44460 Harris Road, Belleville.

For the wedding the bride's sister, Karen Vandecar of Ann Arbor sang 'The Wedding Song' accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Glenn Miller.

ESCORTED to the altar by her father, Kay appeared in a toe-touching creation of silk organza patterned in the empire mode with a finely-tucked bodice accented with lace, tucked stand-away collar, and long sleeves fitted to the elbow and billowing to wide cuffs.

Her shoulder-length illusion veil was held by a pearl and ribbon-trimmed bonnet and her bridal bouquet was fashioned of white carnations, red roses and holly with long white satin ribbons cascading down.

Another of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Karla Clark of Belleville, was chosen to be honor attendant; her sister Karen and the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Diana Villa of Belleville, serving as bridesmaids. All three donned gowns of moss green chiffon and carried nosegays comprised of red carnations and holly tied with red velvet ribbon.

Five-year old Terri Lynn Roberts wore a red floor-length frock sashed in green velvet for her role as flowergirl. Carrying out the duties of ringbearer was the bride's four-year old brother, Daniel Lee Vandecar.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked his brother, Anthony Villa of Westland, to be best man. Groomsmen were Richard Vandecar of New Boston and Sam Villa of Belleville, brothers of the bridal pair. Ushers were Robert and Michael Villa, brothers of the bridegroom.

The Caraway Hall in Flat Rock was reserved for the reception which followed. Mrs. Vandecar received the 300 guests in a pale blue brocade gown woven with silver thread and silver accessories while Mrs. Villa wore an apricot knit gown accented in blue. Both were presented with blue-tipped carnations and white roses tied with silver bows.

Since returning from their week-long honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania, the newlyweds have made their home at 34375 Willow Road, New Boston.

Both Bill and Kay graduated from Belleville High School in 1969 and then went on to Eastern Michigan University. A member of Phi Gamma Nu, Kay earned her associate's degree in business in 1972. Bill is completing his senior year at EMU where he is a member of the Symphonic and Marching Bands. He is employed at Draw-tite of Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner was given Thursday evening by the bride's parents at their home on Haggerty Road.

Romulus Personals Beef supper set for January 19

By Pearl Morris
WH 1-1187

The public is invited to an old fashioned roast beef supper which will be served in the basement of the Community United Methodist Church on Olive Street (across from the Romulus Elementary School) Saturday evening, January 19. Roast beef with all the trimmings will be served along with dessert. Admission is $3 for adults; $1.50 for youngsters 5 to 12 years. Children under five will be admitted free. Serving begins at 5 p.m.

DURING the holiday season four Romulus families enjoyed a progressive dinner which proved to be thoroughly enjoyable. Walter, Dianne and John Zaleski of Hannan Road served festive drinks and appetizers in the early afternoon after which Owen and Mary Ann Teder with children Gary and Lynda, hosted a spaghetti dinner at their Menton Street home. Later John and Marion Tyler and their children, Jeff and Charis, of McBride Road served a variety of tasty desserts. Songs to piano accompaniment were sung about the fireplace. The grand finale for the four families was held at the Hannan Road home of Roy, Jeanine, Matt, Robin and Kathy Roeser. Gifts were exchanged among the children and adults, ending a delightful December Sunday.

A FORMER resident of Wahrman Road, Albert Wahrman, passed away suddenly at about midnight Tuesday in his New Baltimore home at the age of 63. Funeral services were held in New Baltimore Friday followed later by cremation. Mr.

Travelers back after holidaying in East

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Atyeo of Church St. have returned home after having spent the holidays with Dr. and Mrs. N. H. Booth at Gaithersburg, Maryland. Mrs. Booth and daughter, Dianne, drove them home.

FRANK MCCOY of Trumbull, Conn., was a house guest this past week-end of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hatch of Church St.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haft of Church St. and Mrs. Kenneth Hyde and children of W. Huron River Dr. were Sunday afternoon callers on relatives, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoeft of Saline.

BRUCE BEARANCE of Melody Lane, who has been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor for some time, is reported to be seriously ill at this writing.

MRS. VELMA Kulzer of Liberty St. and Nelson Nadeau of Charles St., as representatives of the Belleville Area Senior Citizens Group, attended an all-day meeting of the Recreational and Parks Association held at the Olds Hotel in Lansing one day last week.

MR. AND MRS. Warren Hatch of Church St. have returned home from Trumbull, Conn., after spending the holidays with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs.

Frank McCoy, and family. They were there during the severe storm that isolated the Eastern States.

IN CELEBRATION of their wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. George Robson of Tyler Rd. were honored guests of their pinochle club last Saturday evening which met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dugan of Allen Park.

A FORMER Belleville

resident, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, has returned to her home at Joshen, New York, after having spent the holidays with her son and wife, the Robert Andersons, and their family of Belleville Rd.

MRS. GERALD Jahner and daughter, Kimberly, of Tecumseh spent last week Saturday with the former's parents, the George Hafts, of Church St.

PM's meet in Allen Park for luncheon

The January meeting of the Past Matrons' Association of Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S., was held at the Sveden House in Allen Park on Thursday, January 3, with Past Matron Joyce Maki as hostess.

Present for the 12:30 luncheon were 14 members and one guest, Lenore Gaddy of Romulus, Conductress of Belleville Chapter. Past Matron Cora Bradshaw was the lucky winner of the table prize.

A short business meeting was conducted by Pauline Quinley, the president, with Chaplain Ada Sager having devotions. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially.

Past Matron Effie Kerbyson will entertain in February with luncheon at the First United Methodist Church.

Study Club hears talk on Indians

The Women's Study Club of Belleville held its January session at Knob on the Lake Club House with Mrs. Gerald Miller as hostess. Twenty members were present for the meeting conducted by president Mrs. Thurston Jahr.

Program chairman Mrs. Don White introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Irving Wallace, a member and chairman of the Civic and Conservation Committee. Her talk was on the American Indian who is rated the number one minority group in the country and what the U.S. Government is doing to correct the problem.

Following adjournment refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Lund and Mrs. Royce Smith.

MISS McDANIEL

Summer wedding planned

The engagement of their daughter, Katherine, to Timothy J. Harden is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McDaniel of 18137 Morton Avenue, Belleville.

Both Miss McDaniel and her fiancé are 1973 graduates of Belleville High School. She is currently employed at Grant's in Ypsilanti while he is with Titan Security at Metro Airport.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harden of 14183 Sheldon Road, Belleville.

The wedding is being planned for June 29 at Grace Baptist Church of Belleville.

Pinters add a daughter to family

There's a new little girl out at the New Boston home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Pinter of 33920 Huron River Drive. Jennifer Lynn joined the family January 3 when she arrived at Trenton's Seaway Hospital. The 9 lb., 11 1/2 oz. infant is the couple's fourth child, the others being Christine, 10, Richard, nine, and Scott, three.

Mrs. Pinter, the former Mary Ann Eicholtz, is the daughter of Mrs. Ivedell Eicholtz of Maybee. The paternal grandparents, the Louis Pinters, reside in Flat Rock.

More jobs, income, demand

Beef and other meat prices are influenced both by supply and demand. With the removal of beef price controls and other uncertainties, supplies are moving upward in response to demand. Factors influencing the demand side include expanded employment, with 5.3 million more people employed than two years ago; increased disposable income—up to $139 billion nationally (an increase of 18 1/2 per cent over the past two years); and the growing affluence of other developed nations, creating stronger world demand for meat products.

Company appoints director

A Romulus resident has been appointed assistant regional director of the Wisconsin National Life Insurance Company.

He is Thomas S. Michniewicz, who has been appointed assistant director for operations in Michigan's lower peninsula.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Michniewicz started in the insurance business as a special agent. He was promoted to the job of assistant director of agencies in a Detroit Multiple Agency office in Southfield, and has joined the Wisconsin National Life Insurance Co. with background in personal production, recruiting, training and supervision.

He is married and is the father of three sons.

Meeting to detail problems

Wayne County Commissioner Brian G. Arrowsmith, representing the 27th District on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, will hold a district-wide conference and dinner meeting for elected officials from 3 to 10 p.m. in Feb. 13.

The dinner conference will be held at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

Specific details of the meeting will be announced at a later date, but are expected to deal with present and future programs and existing problems in the district.

The district includes the cities of Belleville, Plymouth, Wayne and part of Westland and the townships of Canton, Plymouth, Sumpter and Van Buren and a portion of Northville Township.

He's a $5,000 winner

Lady luck was shining for one Belleville resident last week. Thirty-four-year-old Richard Budnick may have missed a shot at the Michigan lottery's superdrawing or $1 million drawing, but walked away with a cool $5,000 in the second chance drawing.

Ticket holders must match both sets of numbers to win the money.

Dems call gathering a success

The Romulus Democratic Club has declared its second annual "New Year's Eve" celebration a success.

The Romulus Progressive Hall was filled with revelers who wanted to take part in the Democratic Club's annual bash.

Especially happy was Jerry Beaubien, who won $260 in a "50-50" drawing during the dance.

On hand for the celebration was Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt, and his wife, Charlotte.

Music was provided by the Amore Brothers.

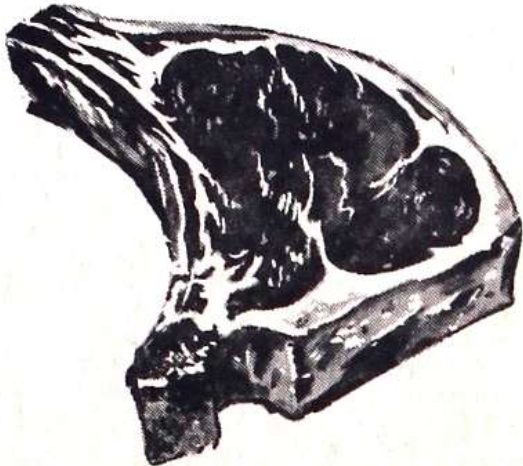

The democrats offered a special thanks to all members who participated in working on the party and Craig Butz, Curt Lenderman, Dan Trumble, Robin Brown, Sandy Ball and Barry Baumann, who volunteered their time for the party.

Principal to speak at meeting

North Junior High School principal James F. Richendollar, will be the main speaker at a promotional meeting on the purpose and operation of "The Number" to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the First United Methodist Church in Belleville.

"The Number" is the Belleville area's new crisis-counseling center. A non-profit corporation, it operates a "hot-line" with a phone staff of 40 volunteers trained to dealing with a variety of problems.

The meeting is being sponsored by the United Methodist Women. A baby sitter will be available.

Traffic death toll increases

Michigan's traffic death toll for 1973 was 2,212, the fifth worse annual loss on record, according to the State Police traffic division's provisional figures.

The total is 46 per cent less than the 2,258 deaths occurring in 1972.

The count ranks behind figures for 1969, 1968 and 1966 respectively.

It was the tenth year in a row and the thirteenth time that Michigan traffic deaths exceeded the 2,000 mark for the year.

The 1973 total included 13 deaths occurring during the Christmas weekend and 19 deaths during the New Year's weekend.

December deaths numbered 133, about 22 per cent less than during the same time period in 1972.

Pet tags required

It's that time again for Romulus residents to license their pets.

Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz has the 1974 dog licenses available in his office at a cost of $1.50 for each male dog and $2.50 for each female dog.

Owners must present a proof of rabies shots for each pet to purchase a license.

For the convenience of residents, Lewkowicz has arranged for a veterinarian to be on hand at the city's dog pound at the Fire Station on Goddard Road at Wayne Road to give rabies shots to pets prior to licensing.

The pet doctor will be on hand between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. Feb. 9, Feb. 16 and Feb. 23.

Shots will cost pet-owners $5 each.

All dogs in the city must be licensed before March 1, or the owners will be ticketed.

Supper plans set at school

The Parent-Teacher Organization of the Haggerty Road Elementary School in Belleville is sponsoring a pancake supper from 5 to 7 p.m. tomorrow in the multi-purpose room of the school.

A book fair in the school library is being held in conjunction with the supper and will be open during school hours.

The pancake supper costs $1.50 for adult and 75 cents for children, $2-year-old and under.

Lottery set for million drawing

Lottery winners in Western Wayne County can claim their tickets at the J.L. Hudson store in Westland Center.

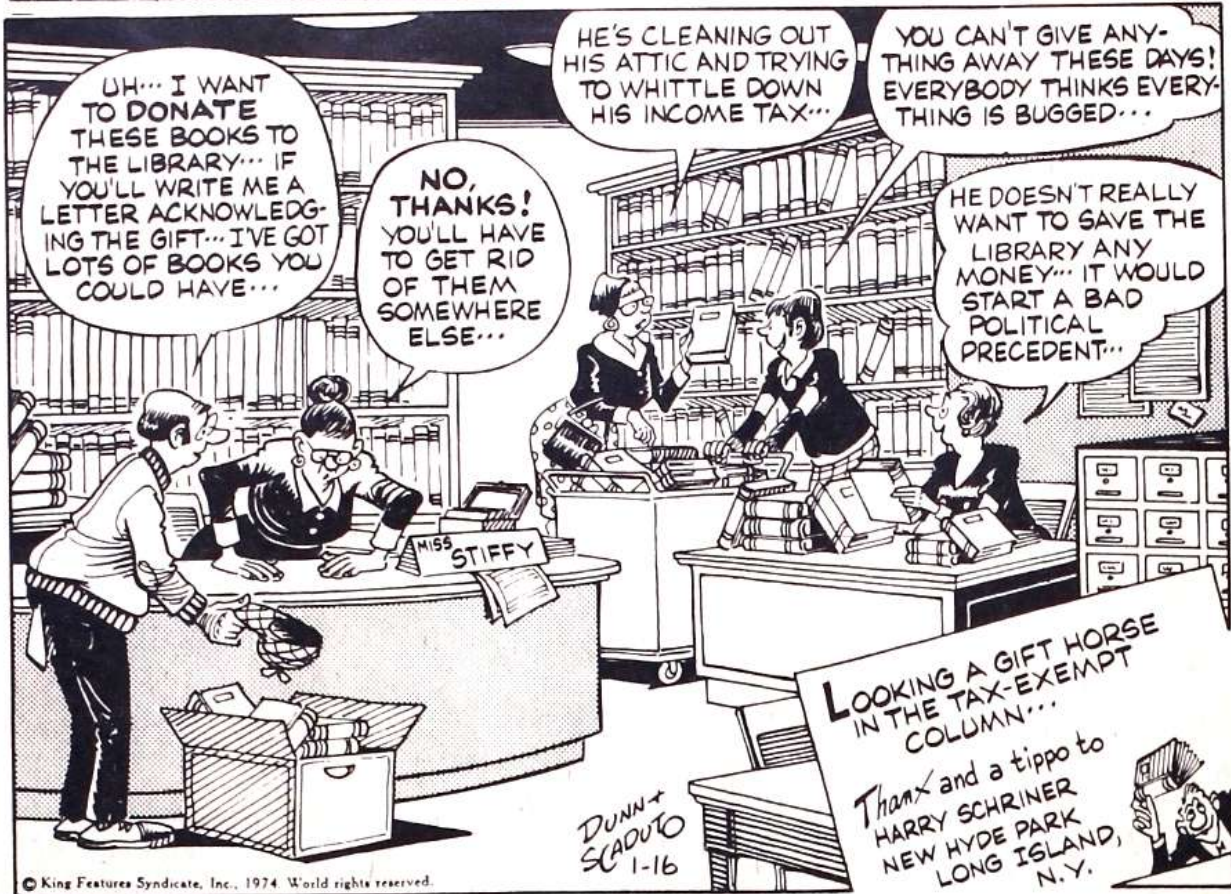

The ticket service centers at nine Hudson stores in Wayne, Oakland and Genesee counties are additions to the claim center system which includes many Secretary of State and Lottery Bureau offices.

The Hudson Claim Centers are open evenings and Saturdays, an advantage over other locations.

Every week, more than 20,000 ticket holders win $25 prizes in the Michigan Lottery and take their winning tickets to claim centers around the state. More than 1,200,000 winning tickets have been sold to date.

Matinees are a treat

Romulus youngsters now have an opportunity to see good movies at a nominal price, thanks to the Romulus Jaycees.

The Jaycees are offering a regular "Saturday Afternoon at the Movies" at the Romulus High School auditorium at 1 p.m. each Saturday until mid-summer, where children can watch youth-oriented features for only 35 cents a ticket. Operated by the Jaycees, the movie afternoons are co-sponsored by the Romulus PTA and the Romulus Recreation Commission in an effort to provide school-aged youngsters with low-cost-high quality entertainment. TICKETS ARE available for 35 cents each or three for $1 through any Romulus elementary school.

To purchase tickets, each child must have a signed permission slip from a parent. Children attending the movies, which run for 150 minutes, must be accompanied by an adult.

The Jaycees recommend that families form carpools to handle the driving and overseeing chores during the shows.

ADULTS ATTENDING the movies will be admitted free of charge.

The first showing, Jan. 5, drew 246 youngsters and 90 adults, and the second show drew 290 youngsters and 100 adults.

Tickets are on sale every Tuesday at the Gordon and Harrison Elementary School, Wednesdays at the Romulus Elementary School, Thursdays at the Hayti, Merriman and St. Aloysius schools and Fridays at the Beverly, Cory and Mt. Pleasant Schools.

Information on the movies can be obtained by calling the Romulus Recreation Department.

Belleville parish hosts a Polish nativity mass

A Polish mass of the nativity performed in the Polish language, will be presented at St. Anthony's Church in Belleville at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The special service, which will include a homily in Polish, will include the traditional breaking of the opelatek.

Celebrating the mass will be the Rev. Fr. Charles Borowski, a professor at the Orchard Lake Seminary. He will be assisted by Fr. Raymond Skonek, pastor of St. Anthony's.

Music will be by the choir of Our Lady Queen of Apostles Church of Detroit.

A reception will be held immediately following the service in the school cafeteria. The public is invited to attend the service and reception at the church, located at 409 W. Columbia Ave., in Belleville.

Dearborn chorus presents concert

The Dearborn Bell Ringers in conjunction with a mixed chorus will present a one-hour performance at the Belleville Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The group, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Culkar, has been presenting mini-concerts throughout communities in Western Wayne County and will be making its first visit to the Belleville area.

The program is open to the public and refreshments will be served following the program. The church is located on Fourth Street, one block off Main Street in Belleville.

Story hour is planned for area

A delight for area youngsters, the Huron School District is sponsoring a weekly one-hour story hour, beginning Wednesday at the district's Elementary Building, 24820 Merriman Rd.

The free story hour, which starts at 1 p.m., includes a program of games, art, music, story telling, finger plays, play activities and planned learning. "This program will help prepare the four and five-year olds for kindergarten and encourages the children to express themselves and learn to cooperate and share with others," said Roger Benner, community-school director. Cookies and milk will be available for the children. Mothers are welcome. Mrs. Joan Benner will be the story hour teacher.

Dancing is great

The Southwest Area Parents Without Partners is sponsoring a Winter Frolic at 9 p.m. Friday at the Sheraton

Metro Inn in Romulus. Dancing will be to the music of "The Blue Reflections" until 1 a.m. Donations of $3 for members and $3.50 for non-members is requested.

Church hosts local singers

The Sumpter Community Chorus will present a program of musical selections at the First United Methodist Church, 417 Charles St., Belleville, on Sunday, Jan. 27.

Bug's life fascinates students at Romulus' Gordonier school

Even though they seem like pests in the summer months, there is still something fascinating in studying the habits and movements of insects.

A praying mantis may resemble a long green stick, but for a fifth grade student at Gordonier Elementary School, the insect was a journey into the world of natural science. Young Kathy Wright and several of her fellow students spent time visiting a wooded area near the school in the fall in quest of subjects for their natural science program. THE PRAYING mantis they found was caged and kept in the schoolroom where students studied the bug, its eating habits and reproduction.

According to Kathy, the mantis was fed fruits and served water from a spoon. "We caught it in September and later we looked praying mantis up in a book," said Kathy. "We even held it in our hand and fed it by hand."

Much to the students' pleasure, their resident insect laid an egg case, which Kathy described as something like a cocoon, but with ridges. THE MANTIS did not survive its captivity at the school, but its egg case hatched, spilling hundreds of the tiny bugs all over a sink in the classroom.

Kathy said that the mantis' young resembled mosquitos and attracted students and teachers from other classrooms. The young brood was divided among interested students, who are now raising praying mantis to protect their gardens from harmful insects.

Romulus earmarks site for snowmobile tracks

Snowmobile buffs in Romulus may have at least a 40-acre tract of land near home on which to race their machines.

With the Romulus Board of Education's approval to allow the city to use 20 acres of school-owned land near Henry Ruff and Beverly roads for Plans have been drawn up to criss-cross the 40-acre tract with tracks for snowmobiling use, and Troutt hopes to have the buzzing machines on the land within the next month. Residents will be allowed to ride on the tract for a nominal fee, he said.

"We'll need some money to help defray the cost of having personnel on the land to supervise and having a warming shelter and lavatories," Troutt added. "But, I can assure you, the land will be only for Romulus residents."

Troutt said the plan may have to be different if the county chips in some land.

Belleville family attends program

The Mitchell Ulbick family, 164 E. Columbia St., Belleville took part in a Bible Education Forum at Tecumseh High School with more than 1,641 other Jehovah's Witnesses last weekend.

The family took part in discussions centered around the idea "Keep Close in Mind Jehovah's Day."

The keynote address was "Act Wisely as the End Draws Near" given by a district minister, David P. Biegler. In the discussion, Biegler stressed that there is a need for soundness of mind and acting wisely to bring "God's approval now."

The meeting included 11 congregations from Southeastern Michigan and marked the baptism of 64 newly-dedicated ministers.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Longfellow wrote, "In this world a man must either be a hammer or an anvil." His words exaggerate a point worth thinking about. When hammering is needed, the right kind of hammer should be used. For example—

You don't use a sledge hammer to drive in carpet tacks. Nor do you use a claw hammer when a pile driver is needed. You use the right weight hammer to mold sheet metal. It must be remembered a hammer can destroy things as easily as it can mold things. This is especially true in religion. It has been tried time and again, but one simply can not pound religion into anyone. A Carpenter who once lived in Nazareth hammered home this truth. His hammer was meekness, gentleness, compassion and love. It was a light hammer but it carried tremendous impact. In more recent years, Everett Dirksen hammered home a somewhat similar thought when he said, "I never knew a person who didn't become tractable if you didn't threaten him with a meat axe."

Belleville boy gets scouting award

A Belleville family, whose members have been involved in the scouting movement for more than 45 years, witnessed another scouting achievement Sunday when their 13-year-old son, third generation was presented with the eagle award.

Receiving scouting's highest honor was Chris Liedel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Liedel of 13107 Edgedale Dr., Belleville.

Chris, whose brother, Jeff, became an Eagle Scout in 1970, received the coveted award at a Court of Honor ceremony held at the St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Belleville, which sponsors Chris' Boy Scout Troop 793.

CHRIS, WHO attends eighth grade at South Junior High School, also has earned the Toe-N-Chip, Paul Bunyan Axman and the 50-Mile Afloat awards. As a Tenderfoot Scout, he earned the mile swim award and as a Cub-scout, earned all 15 Webelos awards and the Arrow of Light.

He presently is a member of the Order of the Arrow Indian dance team.

Chris' other activities include the South Junior High School swim team and the A-V and Tiger Swim Clubs. He also holds safe snowmobile and safe hunter cards. He also has attended every long-term camp that troop 793 has had since he joined the troop and during a tour east last summer he stopped at the National Scout Jamboree at Butler, Pa.

His father joined scouting as a Lone Scout in Maybee, Mich., in 1944 and won numerous scouting awards. As an adult, Doug Liedel has

Wayne commissioner serves on health board

Wayne County Board of Commissioner Brian G. Arrowsmith, a Wayne Republican is chairman of the county board of health. Arrowsmith serves with two other commissioners on the five-member board, the policy-making body which enforces federal, state and local health laws and establishes county health regulations. A county commissioner since January, 1973, and a member of the board of health since May, 1973, Arrowsmith believes that the commissioners' new presence on the board will contribute immensely toward the identification of health needs and the solution to health problems. NOTING THAT there are many health priorities that deserve equal attention, Arrowsmith said that the first chores of the health board should be air pollution control, safe waste disposal systems and respiratory disease control. He emphasized the importance of public health programs, such as food and nursing homes inspections, control of venereal disease and Project PRESCAD and other programs for protection of school children.

Arrowsmith added that the board of health has passed a resolution, declaring that "penalties for infractions of air pollution requirements should be similar throughout the State of Michigan."

The resolution urges the State Legislature to increase the court fines imposed on air polluters in Wayne County from $100 per day to $10,000 per day.

"IT IS IRONIC that only in Wayne County, which has the heaviest concentration of industry and therefore the biggest problem, the maximum fine is only $100," Arrowsmith said.

"In all 82 other counties in Michigan, a violator may be fined $10,000," he added. "Some firms consider the $100 fine to be a cost of doing business because it is less expensive than the equipment needed to comply with the regulations that we have enacted."

The commissioner also has asked for flexibility with industry "where necessary."

He said that the health board, in response to the energy crisis, recently approved a one-year moratorium on regulations governing the sulfur content of coal so that suppliers could meet emergency demands for heating fuels.

Waste disposal in Sumpter Township is another major concern, according to Commissioner Arrowsmith, who said preliminary studies undertaken last summer suggest that the present system is inadequate.

IF THE FINAL report supports early suspicions, he said he will urge immediate corrective action from both the board of health and the board of commissioners.

He also has high praise for John Stock, acting director of the Health department, and for all department heads.

"We have some very excellent health officials who are working very hard to assure the well-being of our communities," he said.

Arrowsmith was elected to his first two-year term on the Board of Commissioners in November, 1972, one of three Republicans on the board.

HE IS A graduate of Wayne Memorial High School and Eastern Michigan University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science Degree and teaching certificate in 1969.

Arrowsmith was appointed to the Board of Health by his 26 colleagues on the Board of Commissioners, and will serve a five-year term.

Rouge to put Romulus '5' to 'the test'

Eagles get unexpected victory

The pieces are falling into place for Jesse Meriweather, the head basketball coach at Romulus High.

But, the first year Eagle mentor feels that Friday night's duel with River Rouge at Rouge will tell a lot about his team.

"We have beaten Rouge the past three times we have played them," said Meriweather whose team is sporting a 7-1 won-lost record after easy 70-42 (Friday) and 72-64 (last Tuesday) victories over Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Detroit Cody, respectively.

"Rouge is the same Rouge," continued Meriweather, "a fine coached team, but they aren't as big as they used to be. We have to play good to beat them, that's all there is to it."

MERIWEATHER pointed out that "we're looking better, doing things right and playing exceptional defense. He wouldn't get any argument from Robichaud which was out of the game in the first period when the Eagles, led by all-stater Johnny Long, outscored their visitors 26-10.

"It was the best game of the year for us," said the Romulus coach, "everything worked." Long drilled in 24 points, 11 baskets and two free throws to lead all scorers. Teammate James Hall was close at hand with 22. ROBICHAUD got 22 points from Monte Dennard, the only Heights player to hit in double figures.

Earlier in the week Romulus turned back a pesky Detroit Cody quintet which refused to quit after being down by as much as 15 points.

The Eagles built up a 16-8 and 36-23 lead after the first two periods, then relaxed as the Detroiters fought back to outscore their hosts 23-15 in the third frame.

ROMULUS pulled away from a 51-46 third quarter margin by outscoring their rivals 21-18 in the final frame.

Difficult decision for Niemi

By TOM MOORADIAN

No coach wants to suspend a player. When he does he realizes there is no alternative. And the suspension also is an admission by the coach that he has failed in some way or other to communicate with the player.

TOM NIEMI

Niemi had a difficult time winning - the Tigers are 2-5 on the season; without these three players Belleville may find it impossible to win another league game.

In this light one can understand how difficult it was for Niemi, who is in his first year as the Belleville head coach, to make the decision.

"I had to do it," said Niemi, discussing some of the events that led up to the suspension. "I can close my eyes to a lot of things, but there are some things I can't tolerate - no coach can tolerate - and these kids violated that boundary."

The 31-year-old former Livonia Franklin assistant cage coach said he believed he would have been delinquent in his job if he had not suspended the players. One of the players made an obscene gesture during the Belleville-Livonia Bentley game last Friday.

Belleville lost the Suburban 8 Conference game 69-56. It was their second defeat in three starts.

"I felt that we had about solved our problems when, just before the Christmas holiday we beat Plymouth Salem. However, the problems were still there and they manifested during the holiday tournament at Cherry Hill and climaxed Friday night at Bentley."

"I am going to build a basketball program at Belleville if it's the last thing I do," vowed Niemi, "and I'm going to need the help and support of everyone."

"We were hoping that our veteran players would buckle down and play the caliber of ball that was necessary to win, but to win one must also have intelligence. They also must conduct themselves in sportsmanlike manner."

"We will go with players who understand this," he said.

Niemi took over the Tiger coaching reigns from Al Gates who resigned after last year's campaign. Gates had a 4-10 league record and 6-16 over-all mark in his final year.

Belleville has not had a title contender in its league for nearly a decade.

Niemi, of course, isn't the first or the last prep coach who has had problems with players. He is the first, however, in the area who is willing to bring those problems to the surface, for public scrutiny, hoping to find a solution.

But, as one coach pointed out to me earlier, "coaching has become a thankless job with school boards putting pressure on you to win and parents thinking that no one is better than their kid."

That's a pretty harsh statement - but, sometimes the truth isn't beautiful.

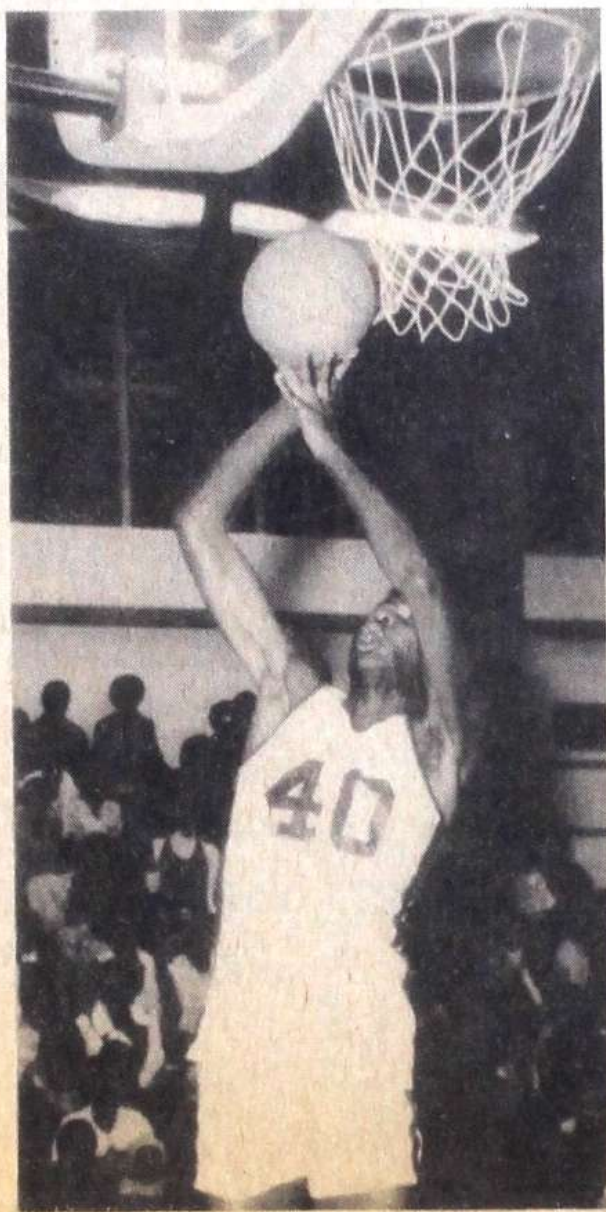

Bullseye

A Belleville woman and three New Boston youths shot their way to championships in the recent Freeman Round indoor archery tournament at the Lincoln Bowmen Archery Club in Brownstown Township.

Sue Cardinal of Belleville won the Women's 'A' Freestyle division title by scoring an impressive 287 points out of a possible 300.

Three New Boston brothers, Larry Kittle Jr., 16, Ken, 12, and John, 11, also won outright championships in their respective classes. Larry won honors in Intermediate Boys 'A' Bare Bow competition, Ken was top scorer in Junior Boys 'B' Bare Bow shooting and John whipped all contenders in Boys Under 12 Class C action.

Sixty-six archers competed in the tournament, including 16 Junior Olympians.

EASY AS DUNKIN' DONUTS—With no one to stop him, Romulus' James Hall (40) leaps high to drop in one of his 11 baskets in scored in the Eagles' 70-46 victory over visiting Dearborn Heights Robichaud Friday night. Tiger tankers perfect Sporting a perfect 5-0 nonleague dual meet record, Belleville tankers will launch the 1974 Suburban 8 Conference swim season tomorrow night as host to Allen Park.

Though the undefeated record pleases Tiger Coach Sam Vicchy, he doesn't have any visions of taking a league title...not yet, anyway.

Dearborn, the defending Class A state champ, is still in the league and Edsel Ford, one of the top state powers also looms in the background.

"But, we are getting there," said Vicchy, "we have kids coming up from our AAU program who will be able to compete with anyone."

VICCHY SAID he is somewhat pleased with his present team "because we are getting everything possible out of them. In another year or two we will be really strong."

It would be difficult to convince Ypsilanti that the Tigers haven't arrived. The Belleville contingent's depth paid off in winning dividends.

Belleville polished off the opening relay with Dwight Bell, Pike Walker, Dennis Harkness and Dave Hamilton (1:53.1), while Mark Fogarty captured the 200-yard freestyle event with a 2:01.3 effort.

Belleville diver Ray Liebler picked up 208 points to beat out teammate Alea Rice by one point for the victory, then Harkness stroked a 1:02.5 in winning the 100-yard butterfly and Bob Payne pulled in with a 5:29.3 to win the 500-yard freestyle.

Meet results: Belleville 47, Ypsilanti 36

FRIEND OR FOE?—It appears that Romulus' Byron Garner (32) is attempting to block teammate Johnny Long's (with ball) shot, but it only appears that way. Long grabbed this offensive rebound and put it up where it belongs, in the hoop, to score two of his game high 24 points in helping the Eagles to rout Robichaud 70-46. Coach Jesse Meriweather's Eagles will try to make it eight out of nine wins Friday night when they meet River Rouge, one of the state powerhouses. — Enterprise Roman photo.

Belleville to host ailing Trenton '5'

If Belleville is going to solve any of its basketball problems, then Trenton is probably the team to work on. Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers will host their Suburban 8 Conference rivals Friday night.

Though Trenton hasn't won a league game in three starts, Niemi's revised cage lineup - he suspended, then dismissed three players last week - is also winless.

"Our kids gave us a good effort against Dearborn," said Niemi whose Tigers bowed to the visitors 72-50. "They (Dearborn) shot 50 percent and when you run up against any team that shoots like that you're going to have problems."

Ernie Thornsberry got Belleville off to a good start as he drilled in eight points in the first period against the Pioneers to stake the Tigers to a 16-15 lead.

But, Thornsberry also collected three personal fouls in his duels under the boards and that forced him to the sidelines. Meanwhile, Dearborn came back to outscore their hosts 14-7 in the second period and took a 29-23 advantage into the lockerroom.

Jim VanderHull's eight points helped Dearborn widen the gap after the half, turning the game into a 51-38 issue in favor of the Pioneers for three periods.

Dearborn came out and outscored Belleville 21-12 in the final eight minutes of the game.

Belleville hit on 20 of 60 shots from the field as compared to Dearborn's 32 of 60 performance. The Tigers also made 10 of 24 at the free throw line while Dearborn utilized eight of 17 charities.

Romulus wrestlers claimed five medals - three of them first places - at the annual Ann Arbor Huron River Rat Wrestling Invitational held over the weekend.

And while the Eagles were making off with their share of trophies, Belleville's George Medley surprised the impressive field of 169-pounders to win the title in that weight class.

THE TEAM title went to Detroit Catholic Central which amassed 84 points while Bedford Temperance settled for second with 73½. Trailing in the field of eight were Walled Lake Western (62½), Ann Arbor Huron (61), Romulus (56), Ann Arbor Pioneer (59), Belleville (31) and Ypsilanti (25).

Romulus' Bradley Smith (140), Lamar Sandusky (100) and Henry Reid (heavyweight) were gold medal winners.

"I was extremely pleased with our team's performance," said Romulus Coach Jim Stallings whose team will compete in the Walled Lake Central invitational this weekend.

"There were three returning state champs in this meet and a member of state medalists and when you do that well against that type of competition you have to be pleased."

Teamwise, Stallings pointed out that Romulus could have finished with the leaders if one of his veteran wrestlers had made weight.

Phil Ford didn't make weight at 114, so the Romulus coach left the Eagle matman out of the lineup.

SMITH was named the tournament's outstanding wrestler as he pinned Jim Doodley of Walled Lake Western in 5:16, decisively Bedford Temperance's Keith Law, 3-1, and stopped Detroit Catholic Central's Dave Rodriguez, last week's Wayne Invitational champ, 11-6.

Sandusky pinned Sott Seaton (DCC), in three minutes, overwhelmed Belleville's Greg Johnson in 2:35 while stopping Ron Overall of Walled Lake Western in 1:45.

Reid, who has a string of 26 consecutive victories - 17 of those via pins, pinned Don Rix, 1:11; also floored Ypsilanti's Cameron Davis in 1:27 while beating DCC's Mike Refalo on a 5:45 fall.

Romulus' two other medalists were Rudy Williams who finished third in the 155 pound weight class and Ivory Allen, who picked up a fourth place at 121.

Top area swim times key to '74 WW title?

No one high school holds a monopoly upon the top area swimming times as revealed today in the inaugural listings.

And that can lead to one conclusion: the 1974 Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Championship, which will be hosted by Westland John Glenn next month is a wide open race.

Garden City East's Dave Sweeney however holds down two of the top times, leading the 50-yard freestyle field as well as the 100 yard freestyle, the only double leader.

The listing, compiled by Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski, will appear each Tuesday until the state finals in March. Area coaches are urged to contact Pawloski either at home (9-414-399) or at school (PA 2-5900) in order to get a time listed.

DETROIT—Flashing the stop sign at Robichaud's Jerry Massey (10) is Romulus guard Michael Morrison (12) during Friday night's nonleague confrontation. Massey and the visiting Dearborn Heights cagers didn't go very far against the Eagles who extended Robichaud's losing streak to seven games, 70-46. Morrison wound up with eight points while Massey went scoreless. — Enterprise Roman photo.

and let them come back," said Meriweather. "You just can't relax in basketball, if you do you're in trouble."

Long again paced a balanced Romulus attack which featured three players in double figures. Long led the field with 21 points while Erv Gibson had 17 and Hall settled for 12.

Romulus also was informed last week that Southeastern must forfeit its 96-62 victory over the Eagles because the Detroiters made use of an ineligible player.

The unexpected victory padded Romulus' overall record on the season to 7-1.

Belleville cards 2nd mat victory

Allen Park is next in line to try to end Belleville High's wrestling dual meet winning streak at two, and the Suburban Eight League squad will get its chance Thursday night.

Belleville will host Allen Park at 6:30 p.m. to resume dual action briefly interrupted by the River-Rat Tournament in which the Tigers competed Saturday (see accompanying story).

Huron '5' falters again

When you hold a basketball team to 23 points in the first half, you should win, right?

That's the way New Boston Huron Coach Andy Herman sees it, but unfortunately, Gibraltar Carlson held his Chiefs to even fewer points in the first half - 19 - in dribbling to a 60-45 triumph over Huron last Friday in Huron League action.

And though the Chiefs trailed by just four at the half, 23-19, the seemingly small deficit was impossible to overcome as they fell to their fifth league loss against a single victory and lowered their season record to 2-6.

WITH THE win, Carlson climbed out of last place and left Huron and Monroe Jefferson occupying the cellar.

"We played poor ball offensively," said Herman. "We made way to many turnovers, especially throwing the ball away."

"But we did play fairly decent defense," he decided. "Carlson is a fairly explosive team but when you hold a team to 23 points at the half, you should win."

Huron stumbled through a horrendous first half offensively - even worse than Carlson's. The Chiefs could sink just two of 13 field goal attempts in the opening quarter for four points, compared to Carlson's 13, but straightened themselves out to take a 15-10 second quarter advantage and trail by just four at the half.

CARLSON SHOT to a 10-point lead after three periods by outscoring Huron, 16-10, that tied the victory with a 21-16 edging of the Chiefs in the final eight minutes.

Huron's one bright quarter - the second - was sparked by Joe Richter's three buckets in three attempts. The Chief floor leader matched Carlson's Bob Blackburn for game scoring honors with 22 points apiece. Both are battling for the league scoring title.

Carlson's Bob Jackson was the game's only other double-figure scorer, with 10 points.

The Chiefs tangled with non-conference foe Woodhaven Tuesday night in a tune-up for their big home encounter Friday night with first-place Tecumseh.

How about a 'donkey' game

A team consisting of Lincoln School faculty members will tangle with the Augusta Township Fire Department in a Donkey Basketball game at the Ypsilanti Township school Jan. 26.

The game, with proceeds going to the Lincoln Band and Orchestra funds, will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the high school, located at 7425 Willis Rd., Ypsilanti Township.

In Donkey Basketball, every shot at the basket must be taken while sitting on the donkey.

The event is being staged by Shaw Bros. Sports Inc., of Pennsylvania.

Romulus residents had better start thinking of ways to keep their children in check.

Romulus City Attorney William Munger has been instructed by the Romulus City Council to research the possibility of enacting a "Parental Responsibility Ordinance" in the community. Similar ordinances enacted in neighboring communities hold the parents of a minor convicted of a crime responsible for the child's action. They force the parents to make restitution for damage in the case of vandalism or for goods lost in the case of stealing.

No date was set for the attorney to return with his recommendation.

'It is so white!'

Snow awes student from Brazil

"It is fantastic! It is so white!"

Or so it seemed to 14-year-old Renato Lucca DePaul, a Brazilian foreign exchange student who received his first glimpse of snow on his arrival at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in December.

Renato, who is attending the school as part of its foreign exchange program, will be in the area for the next six months.

The young student is attending South and has been taking the ninth grade courses of his choice. He stays with the family of fellow student Gary Burelle of 20750 Wilmet St., Belleville.

Renato was greeted by a host of people when at Metro Airport. Among them were students from South, including his new "brother," Gary.

Western Wayne County's heavy Christmas Eve snow fall brought exclamations of delight from Renato, who told his new friends that it was the first time that he had seen snow. "It is so very white," he kept repeating.

Renato, besides attending

South Junior High School, has been made an honorary member of the student council and will participate in its various activities.

Renato said that he is very happy with the Burelle family, his new friends and school work, since beginning his stay in this country.

Jaycee movies success

The kids turned out in droves for the first of 22 weekly movies offered by the Romulus Jaycees.

Movie project chairman Gary Johnson reports that 249 school-aged children turned out for the Jaycees' first offering last Saturday. They were accompanied by some 90 adults who supervised the children in groups or singly.

Tickets for the remaining 21 movies being offered by the Jaycees can be obtained through any of the Romulus School District's elementary schools or through St. Aloysius School.

Tickets are three for $1 and can be purchased by only youngsters who have a signed permission slip from their parents.

The project is being sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees and the Romulus PTA with funds from the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation set aside to help rent films.

Airport detector gets 'pill' man

A 24-year-old Southfield man bound for a Miami vacation may be sorry he attempted to sneak through the Detroit Metropolitan Airport metal detecting device last Monday in Romulus.

The man tripped the metal detector as he attempted to board his flight and was searched by airport security officers.

During the search, officers found more than 4,000 pills of what appear to be narcotics.

Officers of the Wayne County Metro Squad arrested the man, and are holding him pending analysis of the drugs.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the staff of the Michigan Municipal League met with Mr. John Dempsey, Director, Department of Management and Budget for the State of Michigan, on October 30, 1973, to present League recommendations for the Governor's 1974-75 Budget and Legislative Program; and

WHEREAS, it is generally recognized that cities and villages throughout this State, in order to provide basic services to the residents of their communities, require revenues in addition to those which they are able to generate within their respective cities and villages; and

WHEREAS, the Michigan Municipal League has recommended that the following remedial measures be implemented by Legislative action of the State:

- (1) A twenty five million dollar increase in State revenue sharing for cities and villages in order to absorb the increased costs of local government operations which costs have escalated because of inflation, police department and fire department compulsory arbitration awards, higher pension and fringe benefit costs, the demands of New Federalism, cut-backs in Federal categorical grants and new requirements imposed on cities and villages and by the State and Federal governments;
- (2) Additional local taxing powers;
- (3) Reimbursement of the cost of services furnished by municipalities to State-owned facilities;
- (4) Strengthening the local property tax base by eliminating the present property tax exemptions for special tools and for air and water pollution control equipment by substituting therefor a credit against the State income tax; and

WHEREAS, the financial posture and economic vitality of the City of Belleville will be greatly enhanced if the foregoing recommendations of the Michigan Municipal League are adopted and made a part of the Governor's 1974-75 Budget and Legislative Program, NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and City Council of the City of Belleville, do hereby take this means to importune and urge the Governor and the Legislature to adopt the Legislature Program hereinbefore set forth in this joint resolution.

Belleville coed invades male realm of engineering in quest of a degree Engineering is no longer a man's domain. Pert Beverly Leppiaho, a senior majoring in Civil Engineering at Michigan Technological University, has cracked the "for men only" veneer of the field.

The young Belleville woman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eino Leppiaho of 47216 Ayres, Belleville, has been appointed to a newly created university committee to educate women students on the engineering field.

The Advisory Committee on Women in Engineering will help educate other women on the opportunities available in the engineering school.

"THE SITUATION has changed," commented Dr. James A. Kent, Michigan Tech dean of engineering. "In fact, young women who pursue an engineering career will play a key role in helping to meet the growing need for engineers in the United

Dr. Kent pointed out that U.S. Department of Labor statistics predict a shortage of engineers in the foreseeable future. "But fortunately, women now are playing increasingly prominent roles in engineering and the past barriers to women in this field have been eliminated or are diminishing rapidly," he said.

The advisory committee includes women students, representing each of the engineering curricula offered at Michigan Tech, and the women engineers on the faculty. Part of its work will be to interpret the requirements and opportunities that careers in engineering offer young women with strong backgrounds in mathematics and physical science in high school.

Committee chairman Dr. Clyde Work, associate dean of engineering, said the committee will review career guidance literature, programs of career information which the university makes available to high school students, and counseling of women students on campus, as well as identifying and suggesting solutions to any special problems faced by women engineering students.

Dr. Kent said Michigan Tech is fortunate to have three well-qualified women engineers on its faculty.

"Women can do virtually every type of engineering assignment," said Dr. Switlana Winnekow, MUT's highest ranking woman in mechanical engineering. "Girls with the aptitude should know that a graduate with a bachelor's degree in engineering commands higher salaries and attracts a greater number of prospective employers than any other field."

Dr. Martha Sloan, assistant professor of electrical engineering, foresees more shifting of coeds enrolled in such fields as biology, mathematics and computer sciences curricula to engineering, where employment opportunities are more diversified.

"Now a woman can enjoy the excitement engineering holds and work on an equal footing with men to seek its rewards," said Dr. Emmy Booy, assistant professor of geological engineering.

BREAKING DOWN BARRIERS—Pert Beverly Leppiaho forges on with a test experiment in one of her several engineering courses. The Belleville woman is a senior, majoring in Civil Engineering, at Michigan Technological University, and an advisor on a committee to inform women students on the opportunities available in a formerly "for men only" field.

Not corrosive like salt, not heavy on the suspension like buckets of sand, the material is rough enough to provide traction and absorbent enough to keep spin-thawed pools of water in the rut from worsening the original situation.

Council selects Smith as Belleville constable

The Belleville City Council has appointed Richard S. Smith of 382 W. Columbia Ave., as city constable, a position he had been elected to in 1970.

Smith, co-owner of the Deering Insurance Agency in Belleville, was appointed city constable, following a change in state law eliminating the position from the election processes to appointment by local governing bodies.

Mayor Royce E. Smith, father of the newly-appointed constable, abstained from voting on the motion.

SAVES
About a gallon of gasoline a day
With the demand for fuel rising faster than the supply, here's one way to help ease our energy crisis.
According to the latest U.S.
Bureau of Highways figures, the national average for gas mileage is about 13.5 miles per gallon. The new Datsun 1200 gets around 30 miles per gallon or over twice the national average. The average car in the U.S. is driven just over 10,000 miles a year, so you can save about a gallon of gas every day by driving a 1200. With gasoline prices going up, it's a considerable saving of another important resource: your money.
Drive a Datsun...then decide.
